TIED UP WITH RED TAPE

Our Hope for Relief by the Speedy Introduction of Irrigation Getting Little or No Sympathy and Assistance from the Provincial Government.

With the exception of the Alberta Government, everything living more than ten miles from this district appears to have the opinion that every acre of our crop area is entirely napoo. The first thing when we got to Vulcan the other day the business men we happened to meet started in doling out sympathy over our sad calamity, when as a matter of fact there are hundreds of acres of crop around Lomond that are far advanced over anything we could see in the Vulcan district. True enough, we could stand six months steady rain, but we have a splendid prospect of producing a neat parcel of wealth even on the strength of a couple of showers that we are bound to get within the next week or so.

Facing the actual truth, as far as outside credit is concerned we are practically shut off from the rest of the world. We are not considered a good risk. Even the provincial government considers us a poor investment, and no doubt under the guidance of some of our present governmental representatives we would a pretty poor speculation. Hon. C. R. Mitchell met the farmers at Lethbridge last Friday and was given a demonstration that opened his eyes as to the feeling of the people over irrigation. When it came to a straw vote the mammoth convention rose en masse to support a motion that "if the present government would not give them irrigation they would set about to get one that would."

The C.P.R. continues to spend millions of dollars on its irrigation plant and considers it good business. According to the Brooks Bulletin of a few weeks ago, three million dollars was to be spent on improvements to the system in that district this year.

For the benefit of Hon. C.R. Mitchell we would right here state that dozens of 'blown out' farmers are now over on the irrigation works earning enough money to tide them over. If C.P.R. construction contractors will absorb settler labor, why not the same in the construction of our irrigation system.

To you who did not read the argument between Mitchell and Hoadley will here state that Mitchell belittled the idea of construction work being started early to provide relief for the settlers in the stricken areas. Hoadley argued against him. To anyone who lived in this country in 1910 and even in some later years it is plain to be seen that Mitchell is very ill informed.

The people are crying for immediate relief, something exceptional, but the deadheads up at Edmonton maintain that we must proceed upon constitutional lines. Our present Irrigation Act practically shuts off every chance for anything being done, yet the conditions demand that something be done and be done quick. Politicians want to make it a political issue, while the people are sick ur to death of such rattle-trap proceedings and demand a little common-sense business administration introduced into the thing.

The new Frost & Wood binder is going to cut a big figure on the Western Canada machinery market this fall. The Frost & Wood has always been recognized as one of the best machines made, but the new binder embodies several vitally important features but recently evolved by the world's leading mechanical scientists. This is not a freak gotten out to cover a failure, but an improvement on something already good.

We suppose laws are laws, and in the interests of the people at large laws must be enacted and whenever convenient respected and lived up to, but for the life of Hector's pup we cannot see why the provincial government and the dominion government should both be entangled in the irrigation laws. One government can surely handle the business.

Sir Robert Kindersley, commissioner of the Hudson's Bay Co., along with a number of eastern notables happened to be travelling through Southern Alberta on June 8th, the day of the big wind storm, and our cause is being assisted in no little measure by the efforts he and others have exerted in laying the conditions before the people in other parts of the dominion. Sir Robert states that the people should not be compelled to pay the entire cost of construction on the irrigation projects. He maintains that the lands will produce enough revenue for the country when under irrigation to warrant the citizens of the dominion shouldering a portion of the expenditure.

The settlers here are willing enough to pay if the construction can only be started before they are ruined and forced out of the country.

To those who anticipate being able to wallow in alfalfa as soon as water is turned into the proposed ditches, we would warn against such optimistic illusions. Irrigation entails hard work but the returns are as assured as a civil servant's pay check.

o o o

To commence irrigation throughout the proposed district the people have a distinct advantage over other projects in the fact that all this land has been in a state of intensive cultivation for several years.

o o o

Don't hesitate, irrigate!

o o o

To those farmers who so loudly proclaim that they are ready to walk out of the country when the majority compels them to assume irrigation obligations, we would advise holding off a little while. There will be plenty of dry land available for all such fanatics. There are hundreds of high land owners that would jump at the chance to exchange with you.

Lomond missed a treat a week or so ago owing to the fact that the U.F.A. organization had been allowed to die. President H. W. Wood has been out on a speaking tour in the interests of the U. F. A. and was scheduled by the provincial executive to speak here on the 16th. There was no organization here to take any responsibility in making the arrangements so the date was cancelled. Come alive! There are worse things than the cut worms to fight and Wood is one of your champions. You cannot afford to allow anything to happen like this again.

Mrs. Walkey received the sad news on to-night's mail apprising her of the death of her oldest sister, Mrs. Fred Wills at Seeley's Bay, Ont. No particulars were given in the message other than the deceased was apparently all right at ten o'clock on the evening June 25th and was overtaken by death before midnight.

Chances are good for us to go up in the airplane fair day. Two subscribers at least have an interest in us. Whether they want to get rid of us or whether they really want to see us up in the air we are not prepared to say, but they at least expressed themselves in a financial way. Eight more please.

Everybody in the mangle areas were busy at the dips last week. Hardwick's had a regular picnic with ice cream and all the other trimmings. Things were not quite so peaceful at Bow City, but it is an unpleasant game at the best. Here's hoping that it will never again be necessary. The second dipping will commence on the sixth.

A. W. Clark of the Lomond district was placed under arrest by Constable Maddison last Saturday for brutal treatment to his wife. A preliminary hearing was given before Jos. Rodgers J.P. and accused was sent up for trial, being taken to the Lethbridge jail in the meantime.

H. E. Branscombe and E. R. Barnett took a motor trip up through the north country last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Teskey and Mrs. Branscombe went up to Calgary fair today.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Paulson and Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, of Travers, went through to the fair this week. Mrs. Mitchell is going to Detroit to visit her parents.

Fair visitors from Lomond included Vern Davies, Bob Moir, Jack Williamson, Jack McKay, J. C. Jensen, Alfred Jensen, Jack Lamond, Hank Skillinger,

LOCALETS

Lomond has been the victim of a season of petty thieving. Young boys who are hardly old enough to realize the seriousness of the offence have been picking up small articles and trafficking them around amongst themselves. No one likes to take the responsibility of formally charging a young boy with such a serious offence and it is much more risky to approach the parents informally. Here's the tip to parents, and our regrets over the necessity goes with it. It might further be stated that petty thieving around here is by no means confined to young boys, as a number of other cases throughout the country have been reported to us that would indicate old hands at the game.

GOOD, FAT, LOCALLY GROWN BEEF is about as hard to procure as at any time since the hard winter set in. We make a practice of buying local production as far as consistent, and have sometimes been compelled to put over the blocks meats that have not measured up to our own liking for quality. The local butcher both buys from and sells to the public and is supposed to please both ways. We would ask our buying customers to be considerate of local conditions. A few weeks more on the grass will properly finish ample beef for local supply. To those who anticipate marketing cattle we would ask them to hold until in prime condition. It pays you well in dollars and cents, for on the fat you get the weight and profits. It pays us better because we can please the consumer with a higher standard of quality.

Twenty to fifty per cent. of the hens kept in the province are star boarders. These can be culled out by trap-nesting, or by a simple system of rules in judging a hen for laying capacity which has proved, when checked with trap-nesting to be very reliable.

It is this latter method of culling which will be thoroughly explained at the demonstration mentioned above, when it will be made so clear that beginners will be able to do it for themselves with reasonable accuracy.

Sports Day Drew a Big Crowd

July first came in with a fine hot day and everybody who felt inclined to celebrate came to Lomond for the day of sports. The crowd was really quite satisfactory and all appeared to be taking the most enjoyment out of the occasion. The day began with the junior base ball game between the Boy Scout team and a team from Yetwood, the Scouts coming out victorious after a hard fought game. For a time it looked as if the Scouts were in for a thorough whitewashing, but they rallied toward the last and came out on top.

There were no entries in the free-for-all race but in the boy's pony race Mayne Root took the first place and Eric Burton the second. In the girl's pony race Hazel Booth rode the winning horse and Madge Lynk rode second best.

About the best sport of the day was the auto lemon race. There were only four entrants and they all drove Fords. Vern Davies showed a very steady nerve in piloting his Lizzie in as winner. Barb took second money and was just getting nicely onto the tricks of the game when the finish was in sight.

The athletic sports filled in the gaps in several places and gave the people a chance to amuse themselves at the expense of the contestants. None of the winners appeared to feel very gay over the affair the next morning.

The senior base ball game was a sad disappointment to the crowd and to the ball club too. Coaldale's undefeated nine was too much class for the home bunch. For about three innings the locals held their heart pretty good and scores were made on either side. When the break did come, wow! Everybody ran. Our boys went into blue funk and the rest of the game was a sorry spectacle. The final score amounted to something like 24-3.

The foot ball game was a little better evened up. Lomond got away with a lead of one goal. The game was hard fought and it would only take a few such games to awaken the enthusiasm of the fans so they would appreciate the efforts of the players.

The refreshment booth was the busiest place on the grounds. In some lines the goods were sold out before the men had time to get nicely turned around.

Take the day in its entirety we believe there is little room for anybody to kick. The band played numerous selections and added to the entertainment, the people were all in good humor, some exuberantly so. There was money's worth for all. Those who could not satisfy themselves during the day, had the opportunity of indulging in the dance and the hall was crowded.
